

EASTER EGG-CITEMENT FOR PETS

Don't let your pet miss out on an egg-citing treat this Easter – head to your local Pets at Home store and pick up a special chocolate free Easter Egg. With eggs for dogs, cats and even the smallest furry members of your family, no-one will feel left out.

It's a common misconception that cats and dogs can eat chocolate. However, chocolate is toxic to both cats and dogs and could lead to serious health problems. Pets at Home, the UK's number one pet retailer, strives to always put pets first and has developed this range to ensure all cuddly creatures have a very happy Easter too.

Dogs will relish the gluten and cocoa free carob egg (from £1.99). Available in adult dog and puppy sizes, these can be fed as a treat or reward, broken down into bite size pieces.

Small animals will enjoy nibbling on a yummy yoghurt flavoured egg (£1.99) and there's a scrumptious yoghurt and catnip flavour egg (£1.99) that cats are sure to go crazy for!

The eggs are available at stores nationwide, log onto www.petsathome.com to find your nearest store.

Notes to Editors

For more information contact Luke Smart at Biss Lancaster on 0161 234 9771 or email luke.smart@bisslancaster.com

Individual product shots are available on request.